Hello Chris Brinker Award Applicant!

We are so excited to review your submission for the Chris Brinker Film Foundation (CBFF) Scholarship! Before you apply, we wanted to share the story behind this foundation and why we created this organization in honor of our brother. Chris was a graduate of Point Loma High Class of 1988 and went on to become a highly talented and dedicated film producer of classic films such as THE BOONDOCK SAINTS (I & II) and in his last days directed the exciting film, BAD COUNTRY starring Matt Dillon and Willem Dafoe which was released by Sony Entertainment. Following his passing in February 2013 from health complications, Chris' family and friends were inspired to uphold his legacy by creating this foundation with his namesake to provide scholarships to promising students in high school. The CBFF scholarship entails a grant of money to aid students interested in pursuing filmmaking or related arts in college and professionally. We hope that his creative impact can be carried on for years through eager students like you!
